I'm a professional visual artist based in Berlin. Since more than 10 years ago I have been creating visual media communication covering a wide range of styles and techniques from small to big formats. I have worked on projects getting involved in different areas such as art direction, production, edition, postproduction and animation. I'm always seeking to grow my skills about software and other stuff. I'm also passionate about digital arts, interior design, films, music, fashion and pop culture.

I am a highly collaborative team player who thrives in a fast-paced environment. I consider myself eager to contribute my skills and experience to push the boundaries of visual storytelling and create impactful experiences for different audiences.

Always interested to contribute on different projects. Feel free to contact me.
